

THEMA GUIDELINES

ALL SHORT STORIES, POEMS, and ART MUST RELATE TO ONE OF THE PREMISES SPECIFIED BELOW.

Upcoming premises and deadlines for submission [postmarked]

The Premise	Latest postmark
<input type="checkbox"/> Where's the food truck?	July 1, 2018
<input type="checkbox"/> The critter in the attic	November 1, 2018
<input type="checkbox"/> Six before eighty	March 1, 2019

The premise must be an integral part of the plot, not necessarily the central theme but not merely incidental. Fewer than 20 double-spaced typewritten pages preferred. Indicate target theme in cover letter or on first page of manuscript. Include self-addressed, stamped envelope (SASE) with each submission. Rejected manuscripts unaccompanied by an SASE will not be returned. Response time: 3 months after premise deadline. Note: No handwritten manuscripts will be considered.

Payment: short story, $25; short-short piece (under 1000 words), $10; poem, $10; artwork, $10. Copyright reverts to author after publication.

Short Stories: All types welcome—both traditional and experimental
⇒ Send to: Virginia Howard, editor, Box 8747, Metairie, LA 70011-8747
Be sure to indicate premise and include SASE.

What we like: a carefully constructed plot; good character delineation; clever plot twists

What we don't like: bedroom/bathroom profanity unless necessary.

Why we object to bedroom/bathroom profanity:

- ◇ It's boring! Writers should be more creative than to depend on the same tired and dubious language crutches to express surprise, disdain, shock, bemusement, anger, sadness, and other emotions.
- ◇ Such profanity, used in excess, often serves as a camouflage for a weak plot. If the plot is good, the story can be told much more effectively in nonscatologic language even though a character in the story may be sleazy.
- ◇ Stories of lasting quality rarely need it.

Poetry: All types of poetic form welcome. Submit no more than three poems per theme, please.
⇒ Send to: Gail Howard, poetry editor, Box 8747, Metairie, LA 70011-8747
Include SASE and indicate premise. (Please include a separate SASE for each premise.)

What we like: poems that are thoughtfully constructed and carefully distilled.

What we don't like: sexually explicit wording. Subtlety is more creative.

Art: MUST FIT THEME—Cover: color illustration/photograph; inside art: black and white (pen and ink; computer-generated; photograph) Submit xerographic copy or 5" x 7" photograph (digital printout acceptable) of artwork
⇒ Send to: Virginia Howard, editor, Box 8747, Metairie, LA 70011-8747
Include SASE and indicate premise.
